OPEN EUROPEAN CHAMPIONSHIP IN OLYMPIC CLASS FINN IN SPLIT COMPLETED

GOLD: Ivan KLJAKOVIĆ-GAŠPIĆ CROATIA
SILVER: Josh JUNIOR NEW ZELAND
BRONZE: Vasilij ŽBOGAR SLOVENIA

With the turn and jump into the sea celebrated Ivan Kljakovic-Gaspic his new gold and the title of European champion in the Olympic class Finn. The Open Championship of Europe in this Olympic class local sailor sailed until their third European gold in this class, exactly six medals from championships of the Old Continent – he already has one silver and two bronze.

- I am satisfied, what else to say! That's it! Celebrating here at home is great, I'm surrounded with good friends to celebrate with, although sailing at home is quite a burden - with a smile, flag in hand, and "filled" with a numbered pat on the back and congratulations for the new medal, tells us the legendary Bambi commenting on another major success in its "sailing book".

He, in fact, in the medal race, where the ten magnificent competed for throne, only continued his good run races without compromising the lead among 71 sailors from 30 countries and four continents as were exhibited at the European Championship. And with the least negative points, climbed to the top of the pedestal. With the fact that this is his fourth gold medal celebrated in Split - one in Optimists, one in Laser and two in Finn.

Second place, silver medal in the Open European Championship in Finn, is won by New Zealander Josh Junior who says:

- I am very pleased with my sailing in Split. It was great, I'm going back home with a medal!

With the medal goes home also Slovenian Vasilij Zbogar, who took the bronze medal, exactly second in Europe.

- After initial problems, everything fell into their place, the last five races we sailed in stronger wind, I did well, and here I am again with a European medal, with fourth one: silver, gold, silver and bronze in series - did not hide his happiness this Split's, better said Kastela's son-in-law - Zbogar, who is already known name in Dalmatia, and reveals the following:

- It was really stressful sailing medal race, the battle for the bronze medal was hard because I had to watch with one eye on the young Russian Arkadiy Kistanov, which is ultimately the best junior and also to British Edward Wright, who ended the championship on that worst place - fourth.

Another local sailor sailed the medal race - Milan Vujasinović, YC Split sailor, who eventually finished ninth.

- The third appearance at the European Championships, sailing medal race is not exactly to throw away. Although I could do it better ... - concise Split sailor with nickname Dugi.

With few words concluded Labud sailor - Nenad Bugarin. He is young guy, only a year and half in Finn, but already with two junior bronze - one in the World championship and this is another, taken at home, at the European Championships.

- I had my ups and downs, but this is a big improvement for me, raising up on the Europeans throne. This year I will sail on two World championships, the first junior waiting for me at the end of June in Spain, then a senior in November in New Zealand - gave us his plans European bronze in the junior competition, and 18th in the overall competition.

In addition to these three Croatian sailors in front of Split sailed also Josip Olujić, also a member of YC Labud who won the 20th position, and the local Tudor Bilic who took 46th ranking.

Family support

Family Kljakovic-Gaspic is the main support of Ivan in the march to the throne and of the international sailing areas, they encouraged Bambi at the sea, welcomed at the mainland, and posing with the new European champions. And we asked them for a common, celebratory photo because it is not an everyday situation that the family has three times the European champion.

On the picture stands: Ina sister-in-law, sister Anna, mother Bosiljka, wife Vana, Bambi, brother Tony and his father Željko.

At the same time, over the past 15 years, with Bambi works also psychologist Iva Bratičević-Dragičević, who says that this work it's a big challenge, and with Ivan she has no problem since he's responsible, flexible and very ambitious.

Measurer Vasilij Kravcenko satisfied with his stay in Split

Mister finn 2015. Zsombor Berecz

During the Championship two fun games were organized - the first was the choice of Mister EP Finn 2015.

Twenty-six pictures of helmsmen was released to the Bulletin, and at the end of the seven-member jury, exclusively women, the favorite was chosen. Most votes went to Hungarian Zsombor Berecz, and so he earned the flattering title of Mister Finn European Championship 2015, ahead of second-placed Uruguayan Alejandro Foglia.

In the second lottery was supposed to hit winners, and the most success in that was employee of YC Labud, Roza Jukic. To reward and celebrate the victory gained dozen of beer.

YC Labud President Mira Boban received a gift from Corrine McKenzie, Finn Class Chief Executive
